

How to Deal with a Road Traffic Accident

No matter how careful you are on the roads, accidents can happen and it can be a difficult time for everyone involved. Knowing what to do if an incident does occur on the road can help to make the process a great deal easier.

195,723

Road casualties
in Britain 2012.

Common causes:

- ⇒ Speeding
- ⇒ Careless driving
- ⇒ Drunk driving

1. Remain at the scene for a reasonable amount of time. If you are able, take pictures of the scene for evidence.

2. Give your name and registration details to anyone who should know, such as the police.

3. Take down the names and contact details of any people who witness the incident.

4. Contact Express Solicitors and speak to someone who specialises in road traffic accidents. We can offer free & independent advice on what to do next.

5. Once your claim has been filed, Express Solicitors will deal directly with your insurers to get you the compensation you deserve.

 Express Solicitors
Lawyers helping injured people.

0845 456 4007